English in depth

In 1ere: Two themes: L'Imaginaire, La
Rencontre

In Tle: Three themes

Do you like reading about monsters or are you more into romance?

Do you wonder about the future and how it is connected with the past?

In this course, You will learn to further your thought and understanding, in written and oral form, as well as develop your taste for reading.

You will discover historical and cultural landmarks through different authors, literary and artistic movements and genres.

You will also learn to develop argumentation and critical thinking.

It is essential that you be interested in the anglophone culture and literature to enjoy the course and be good at it; you do not need to be excellent at English, but you need to read and understand literary texts.

There will be a lot of speaking and debating involved, and the test is in two equal parts: a written commentary and an oral presentation based on a personal file.
